Blackboard
Blackboard is a web-based learning management system licensed by CMU. Within Blackboard, a course website, also known as a shell, is automatically created for every CMU course. Face-to-face courses may or may not incorporate Blackboard, whereas Blackboard course shells are always used for online courses and will be available to you prior to the course start date. Seeing the course shell listed in Blackboard with unavailable adjacent to its title is an indication that your instructor has not made it available and is in no way indicative of registration status. To access Blackboard, open a web browser and enter http://blackboard.cmich.edu. After the site loads, enter your CMU Global ID and password in the respective spaces provided. Click the "login" button to enter Blackboard and then the link to the appropriate course to enter the course’s Blackboard shell. If you need assistance, contact the IT Helpdesk at 989-774-3662 / 800-950-1144 x. 3662. Self-guided student tutorial resources are also available at http://www.cmich.edu/blackboard.

Academic Biography:

Academic Background:

I received my Ph.D. in Experimental Psychology from the University of Oklahoma. The major focus of my doctoral training was in the areas of learning, memory, and physiological psychology (now known as behavioral neuroscience). I have taught numerous courses, including introductory psychology, physiological psychology, history and systems of psychology, learning and memory, motivation, statistics, research methods, sport psychology, and psychology and the law. In the earlier part of my career, my research interests were largely concerned with laboratory investigations of human learning and memory, and the role of individual differences (i.e., personality) in these processes. Since this time, my interests have expanded to include the topics of emotion and memory, sport psychology, and psychology and the law. The research in emotion and memory is concerned with understanding the basic mechanisms involved in the emotion-memory relationship. The research in sport psychology involves the application of principles of industrial/organizational psychology, especially personnel psychology, to the selection and evaluation of athletes. The present focus of the psychology and law research has been the development of an instrument that can be used to evaluate attorney performance in court. My research has been published in a variety of journals including Emotion, Memory and Cognition, Applied Cognitive Psychology, Journal of Sport Management, and the American Journal of Forensic Psychology. I have also been a reviewer on numerous occasions for journals in my interest areas as well as presenting numerous papers at conference presentations. Finally, I have collaborated on a text book dealing with single subject research and biomedicine. My hobbies include maintaining an active lifestyle (weightlifting, and cross cardio training) and being an avid and competitive golfer.

II. TEXTBOOKS AND INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS

Textbooks and Course Materials:
Title: Personality Puzzle
Author: Funder
Edition: 5th 10
Publisher: Norton
Required: Yes

III. COURSE DESCRIPTION
A survey of the major theories and principles that are used to describe/explain the individual. The primary focus will be on evaluating and testing theories via research findings.

IV. COURSE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

After completing this course, the student will be able to:

1. Define personality and discuss the nature of the concept.
2. Describe the appropriate methodology for basic research in personality.
3. Discuss results of the empirical literature as it relates to each of the major theoretical views of personality.
4. Contrast the various theoretical approaches to personality.
5. Identify the similarities among the different personality theories.
6. Identify for each personality approach the major theoretical dimension.
7. Link the specific theory about how the personality functions to the cultural value system present at the time of its development.

V. METHODOLOGY

In general, there will be topic reading assignments for each week, writing assignments, and quizzes/exams. You will have access to the course material in a variety of formats. These include chapter summaries and powerpoint lecture slides. You will also have access to practice test for each week.

Required components of the course can be broken up into four types:

1. Completing a scavenger hunt and getting to know your classmate's assignments
2. Completing, describing, and interpreting three personality inventories
3. Completing three assignments dealing with Personality Psychology in the news
4. Completing 6 quizzes and 2 proctored exams.

Late Assignments:

Late/Missing Assignment Policy

You are expected to complete all assignments on time. The total number of possible points you could earn for any unexcused late assignments (including exams) will be reduced by 20%. If the assignments are later than one week, you will receive zero points. Always contact me via e mail if you expect to be late for submitting an assignment.

Make-ups and Rewrites:

Exams-there are no make-ups.
Rewrites—Students may submit papers for an initial evaluation.

VIII. EXPECTATIONS

Attendance and Participation:

There is no formal attendance policy. However, students are expected to stay engaged with the course throughout the entire semester.

Academic Integrity:

Because academic integrity is a cornerstone of the University’s commitment to the principles of free inquiry, students are responsible for learning and upholding professional standards of research, writing, assessment, and ethics in their areas of study. Written or other work which students submit must be the product of their own efforts and must be consistent with appropriate standards of professional ethics. Academic dishonesty, which includes cheating, plagiarism and other forms of dishonest or unethical behavior, is prohibited. A breakdown of behaviors that constitute academic dishonesty is presented in the CMU Bulletin (https://bulletins.cmich.edu/).

Student Rights and Responsibilities:

Each member of the Central Michigan University community assumes an obligation regarding self conduct to act in a manner consistent with a respect for the rights of others and with the University’s function as an educational institution. As guides for individual and group actions within this community, the University affirms the general principles of conduct described in the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities and Disciplinary Procedures at https://www.cmich.edu/about/leadership/office_provost/dean/Pages/Code-of-Student-Rights.aspx.

IX. SUPPORT SERVICES AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS

Global Campus Library Services (GCLS)

CMU offers you a full suite of library services through its Global Campus Library Services (GCLS) department. Reference librarians will assist you in using research tools and locating information related to your research topic. The library’s Documents on Demand office will help you obtain copies of the books and journal articles you need. Check out the GCLS website at http://ocls.cmich.edu for more information.

Harassment and discrimination

You have a right to feel safe and supported while pursuing your degree at CMU. If any professor, student, or staff member makes you feel that you have been discriminated against, disrespected or stuck in a hostile environment, the Office of Civil Rights and Institutional Equity (OCRIE) is here to help: Bovee UC 306, (989) 774-3253. For resources and more information, please see https://www.cmich.edu/office_president/OCRIE/

Sexual misconduct policy

With the exception of the confidential resources named explicitly within the Sexual Misconduct Policy, all CMU staff and faculty are responsible employees and are required to report any information they know about possible sexual misconduct to the Title IX Coordinator in OCRIE: Kathy Lasher, (989) 774-3253. This means that any information you may divulge about such an incident in the classroom or with a faculty member cannot be confidential. Reports to OCRIE are intended to provide options and resources to survivors. Please keep these reporting obligations in mind as you seek support from staff and faculty you trust, and know that there are also support centers on campus that will maintain confidentiality, which include Sexual Aggression Peer Advocates (989-774-2255) and the CMU Counseling Center (989-774-3381). For resources and more information, please see https://www.cmich.edu/office_president/OCRIE/
